

Arch. DI Johannes Baar-Baarenfels

Born in Salzburg, Austria 1963

Military service ending as first lieutenant in Reserve Army

Studied at the Technical University of Vienna

Diploma with Professor Helmut Richter

Founded Baar-Baarenfels Architects in 1991

Exhibitions in Prague Czech Republic, Ljubljana Slovenia,

Bratislava Slovak Republic, Vienna Austria, Moscow

Russia, Miami USA,

Nominated at the WAF 2010 in Barcelona

Lectures at the universities in Sofia, Bucharest, Timisoara and Vienna

Assistant Professor at the Institute of Architecture and Design, Technical University of Vienna 2002-2008

Award Winner at the WAF 2013 in Singapore

Member of the Viennese Chamber of Architects

Invited at the Venice Architecture Biennale 2014 curated by Rem Koolhaas

2015 Lectures at Universities in India

2016 Lecture at Share Architecture Conference, Sofia,

2017 Lecture at Share Architecture Conference, Skopje

2017 Published in "The Architectural Manifesto"

2018 Published in "WW architecture, 30 of the most relevant world architects"

2020 Winner of the European Property Award

2023 Lecture at Share Architecture Conference, Bratislava

2024 Published in "Influencers Architecture"

List of some completed buildings:

Car showroom Vienna, Houses and Apartment houses in Austria and South Africa

Worldwide shops for the jewelry company Misaki from Monte Carlo

Shops in Salzburg, Vienna and Düsseldorf, Germany for the company Sportalm from Kitzbühel

Loft in Berlin, Germany

Conversion of Palais Rasumofsky, Vienna

2 apartment buildings in Kaasgrabengasse, Vienna

Apartment housing in Sunset Beach, Cape Town, South Africa

3 Glass domes on the main Square Sofia, Bulgaria

Currently working on:

High Rise Building in Sofia, Bulgaria

Hotel refurbishment in Gmünd, Austria

Four Apartment Houses in Feldkirch, Austria

Office Building in Vienna, Austria

Holiday Home in Voronet, Romania

OFFICE PROFILE

Baar-Baarenfels Architects is an internationally operating and award-winning architectural design practice which completed residential, commercial and cultural projects and is presently active in Austria, Bulgaria, Romania and UK.

The architecture office has been nominated for the World Architecture Festival Award in Barcelona 2010 in the category commercial use for the highly acclaimed Sportalm flagship store. In 2013, the office received the World Architecture Festival award in the category new and old for the restructuring of the heritage Palais Rasumofsky.

Winner of the European Property Award 2020

The head of the company, Johannes Baar-Baarenfels was Assistant Professor at the University of Technology in Vienna from 2002-2008 and has gained international recognition in the academic field as a guest professor, lecturing in following universities:

Prague - Czech Republic, Warsaw - Poland, Venice - Italy, Vienna - Austria, Sofia - Bulgaria, Bucarest and Timisoara - Rumania, Mumbai - India.

Baar-Baarenfels Architects have been invited to Biennale di Venezia 2014 by the curator Rem Koolhaas to present their work at Palazzo Bembo. In other occasions they have been invited to Lubiana - Slovenia, Bratislava - Slovakia and Prague - Czech Republic, Moscow- Russia, Miami - USA.

ZT Arch. DI Johannes Baar-Baarenfels
Baar-Baarenfels Architekten